In conjunction with luxury travel network StayOne, the brand's inaugural selection of homes, dubbed Mandarin Oriental Exclusive Homes, includes locations in Ibiza, the South of France and Mallorca. Each branded home will be serviced by a team trained by the brand that will provide information and insights regarding each destination.

"We are excited to be extending the Mandarin Oriental brand to new ventures and to be introducing new experiences to our fans around the world," said James Riley, group chief executive of Mandarin Oriental Hotel Group, in a statement.

"These handpicked luxurious homes fit naturally into our portfolio and their locations provide opportunities for our guests to combine a hotel visit with a villa stay and explore more of the destination in different ways but all with the assurance of the Mandarin Oriental reputation."

Exceptional homes

Every private villa and mansion under the initial selection of Mandarin Oriental Exclusive Homes is located in popular destinations throughout Europe.

Homes in the collection fit different needs and vacation-visions, ranging from beachfront villas on private islands to Georgian-style manor houses.

Each residence will offer the luxury feel that travelers expect from any Mandarin Oriental hotel, including utmost quality and safety standards.

Travelers will also have dedicated 24/7 concierge service, from booking to departure to assist with local experience planning and transportation.

Other amenities include housekeeping, private and on-demand culinary options, COVID-19 health audits and more.

Last year, Mandarin Oriental Hotel Group announced its plans to head west to brand and manage 54 luxury residences in Beverly Hills, set to open this year.

Mandarin Oriental Residences, Beverly Hills, at 9200 Wilshire Boulevard, is the group's first residential-only project on the U.S. West Coast. The new homes promise a unique lifestyle combining the comforts of a private home with the hospitality service of Mandarin Oriental (see story).
