

NEWS BRIEFS

Day's wrap: Tiffany, YSL, Hennessy, Este Lauder and Vacheron Constantin

April 18, 2022

Tiffany hopes to alleviate the pressures of climate change in five key regions. Image courtesy of Tiffany & Co

By LUXURY DAILY NEWS SERVICE

Luxury Daily's live news for April 18:

Tiffany auctions Patek Philippe watch for conservation

LVMH's Tiffany & Co. has announced it will donate $6.5 million to support The Nature Conservancy (TNC) through the auction of a Patek Philippe Ref. 5711 Nautilus watch featuring a Tiffany Blue dial.

Subscribe to Luxury Daily
Plus: Just released
State of Luxury 2019 Save $246 ▶

YSL Beauty launches extensive sustainability program

France's YSL Beauty has announced a global program in partnership with nonprofit organization Re:wild with the goal of making a positive impact on the planet and its people.

Hennessy taps Jeremy Demester for barrel-making workshop

LVMH's Cognac brand Hennessy has presented a specially commissioned art piece by Jeremy Demester to celebrate the reopening of its barrel-making workshop.

Este Lauder joins Supplier Leadership on Climate Transition

Beauty group Este Lauder Companies has become the first luxury beauty company to join the Supplier Leadership on Climate Transition (LoCT) consortium.

Vacheron Constantin opens first boutique in Philippines

Swiss watchmaker Vacheron Constantin has opened the doors of its first storefront in the Philippines.

Please click here to read the morning newsletter