The Tone Bathroom Collection is crafted with durability in mind, with the offerings designed to demonstrate resistance to corrosion and tarnishing. The collection reflects a mid-century modern style, complete with clean lines and a teardrop shape.

Functional faucets

The Tone collection offers a minimalist yet chic style, including a two-tone finish option that can be a bold addition. The collection overall aims to offer clean finish combinations and renowned functionality.

The new bathroom collection is comprised of five faucet options, shower and bath faucets, including a free-standing bath filler and accessories. The collection offers six different finish options: polished chrome, brushed nickel, brushed moderne brass, matte black, and two-toned options including matte black/polished chrome and matte black/brushed moderne brass.

Tone also comes in an analogous kitchen collection, offering faucets of disparate sizes and configurations.

Kohler is always looking to offer consumers top-of-the-line fixtures and has recently demonstrated its ongoing commitment to the community at large.

In April, Kohler expanded its efforts to increase access to educational opportunities with a new partnership program.

Kohler is working with 13 organizations across the U.S. as part of its community partnership program to provide educational and workforce opportunities to students. The latest social impact initiative from the brand is expected to reach more than 7,000 students annually (see story).
