Beginning July 21, the service provides round-trip flights to and from Nantucket, with individual seats available through the Wheels Up member app or group seating available through the firm's website. The shuttle is now available through Labor Day weekend.

"With the summer travel season in full swing, we are excited to offer this popular shuttle route for members looking to make the most of their summers," said Lee Applbaum, chief marketing officer at Wheels Up, in a statement.

"These quick flights are a great way to make long-lasting memories with family, friends and loved ones."

Making summer memories

Wheels Up is once again working to make the summer a season to cherish.

Each flight will take off from Westchester County Airport (HPN) to Nantucket Memorial Airport (ACK). Passengers will be flying on Wheels Up's King Air 350i.

The shuttle departs every Thursday at 10 a.m. and returns every Sunday at 4 p.m. Labor Day Weekend will operate on a special holiday schedule.

Members may book up to four seats per flight with each leg of the flight starting at $895 per person.

As Wheels Up is resuming a successful program, it continues to seek expansion.

Earlier this year, Wheels Up accelerated its global expansion with its acquisition of British global aviation services group Air Partner.

The move allows Wheels Up to expand its private travel offering internationally. The company will also be able to add new services to its portfolio, as Air Partner provides group charter, freight and safety and security offerings (see story).
