

NEWS BRIEFS

Day's wrap: Queen Elizabeth, Audemars Piguet, Pantone, IWC, and Printemps

September 8, 2022

An image of Audemars Piguet's newest book, in collaboration with Assouline. Image credit: Audemars Piguet

By LUXURY DAILY NEWS SERVICE

Luxury Daily's live news for Sep. 8:

Queen Elizabeth II passes away at 96

Subscribe to Luxury Daily
Plus: Just released
State of Luxury 2019 Save $246 ▶

Queen Elizabeth II, Britain's longest serving monarch, died Thursday at her Balmoral estate in Scotland.

Audemars Piguet honors Royal Oak in new Assouline book

Swiss watch manufacturer Audemars Piguet and luxury publishing house Assouline are celebrating the 50th anniversary of the brand's Royal Oak watch with a dedicated book, available for pre-order starting Sept. 8.

Pantone publishes spring/summer 2023 fashion week color trends

Global consultancy Pantone Color Institute has released its semiannual color trends report highlighting the top ten standout shades that consumers can expect to see designers use in upcoming collections.

IWC champions sustainability with supermodel Gisele Bndchen

Swiss watchmaker IWC Schaffhausen has partnered with supermodel Gisele Bndchen to further elevate their commitment to eco-consciousness.

Printemps positions itself on Wall Street with forthcoming location

U.S. jeweler David Yurman is announcing its selection of two talents as the label's latest representatives.

Please click here to read the morning newsletter
