

TRAVEL AND HOSPITALITY

Four Seasons Bali floats guests down a river for a memorable check-in September 23, 2022

An image of the Four Seasons Bali. Image credit: Four Seasons Bali

By LUXURY DAILY NEWS SERVICE

Luxury hospitality group Four Seasons is introducing a new feature at its Four Seasons Resorts Bali at Sayan that is the first of its kind in the country: check-in by river raft.

Subscribe to Luxury Daily
Plus: Just released
State of Luxury 2019 Save \$246 ▶

Guests transferring from the hospitality group's beach resort, Four Seasons Jimbaran Bay, have exclusive access to the niche travel method. Interested parties can float to the nearby sister resort via the water.

Make a splash in Sayan

Voted #1 World's Top Hotel in the 2018 Travel + Leisure Readers' Awards, Four Seasons Resort Sayan is both an iconic spiritual hideaway and an adventurous retreat, depending on the individual desires of visitors.

Rather than a 90-minute car transfer, guests can opt to arrive in a private raft that can accommodate two people at a time and learn about the UNESCO World Heritage-listed ricefield irrigation system along the way.

The two-hour rafting adventure takes place along Bali's longest river, the Ayung. Guests can absorb picturesque views of lush jungle and rice terraces as their luggage continues by car and precedes their arrival at Four Seasons Resort Sayan.

View this post on Instagram

A post shared by Four Seasons Resorts Bali (@fsbali)

A raft transfer experience in Bali

The leisurely guided adventure will include life jackets, helmets and rafting equipment recommended by the World White Water Rafting Association and guests will arrive directly at the Resort's Riverside Restaurant.

The Four Seasons is an industry leader in hospitality and offers inimitable experiences for adventurous affluents. The luxury hospitality group has never been afraid of defining luxury in a way that opposes mainstream definitions by optimizes individual guest satisfaction (see story).

© 2022 Napean LLC. All rights reserved.

Luxury Daily is published each business day. Thank you for reading us. Your feedback is welcome.