

NEWS BRIEFS

Stuart Weitzman, Fendi and the Chinese economy – News briefs

February 3, 2012

By STAFF REPORTS

Today in luxury marketing -

Stuart Weitzman revamps 'Million Dollar Shoe'

Stuart Weitzman's infamous "Million Dollar Shoe" — which celebrates its tenth anniversary this year — will make another comeback, just in time for Oscar season, according to Women's Wear Daily.

Please click here to read the entire article on WWD

Sign up now

Luxury Daily

Arizona Muse for Fendi spring 2012 Campaign by Karl Lagerfeld

Captured in black and white, Arizona sports the label's classic silhouettes under the cover of night with voluminous curls and elegant makeup, according to Fashion Gone Rogue.

Please click here to read the entire article on Fashion Gone Rogue

China economy headed for hard landing: analyst

China's economy is headed for a 'hard landing' this year as weaker demand overseas chokes off exports, said Gary Shilling, who correctly forecast the US recession that began in December 2007.

Please click here to read the entire article on Business Times

Luxury goods giant LVMH posts net profit of \$4.1 billion

French luxury goods giant LVMH Moet Hennessy Louis Vuitton SA on Thursday reported a net profit of $4.1 billion for 2011, thanks partly to its watches and jewelry division, which was boosted by the acquisition of Bulgari, according to the Washington Post.

Please click here to read the entire article on the Washington Post

© Napean LLC. All rights reserved.

Luxury Daily is published each business day. Thank you for reading us. Your feedback is welcome.