

NEWS BRIEFS

LVMH, Amazon, Bentley Motors, Mercedes-Benz and Kenzo

December 13, 2022

In celebration of the Boko Flower, Kenzo released its holiday campaign, "The Golden Boko : KENZO 2022 Festive Season". Image credit: Kenzo

By LUXURY DAILY NEWS SERVICE

Luxury Daily's live news for Dec. 12

LVMH to double specially-abled employee headcount by 2025

Subscribe to Luxury Daily
Plus: Just released
State of Luxury 2019 Save $246 ▶

Collecting feedback from specially-abled directors and those who have hired them, LVMH is working to widen the range of positions held by its employees who have disabilities.

Amazon apes TikTok with new Inspire social platform

Inspire is a new shopping experience that connects Amazon customers with shoppable content created by other customers, the latest influencers and a wide range of brands.

Bentley remixes popular holiday tune using factory sounds

Scissors cutting leather, machines sewing, paint being sprayed and car doors closing were strung together in notes matching the famous composition.

Mercedes-Benz advances European EV production plans as partner steps back

Mercedes-Benz is not only repositioning its products but is also future-proofing the entire value chain: from procurement to production, to logistics and sales.

Kenzo celebrates its staple Boko Flower in new holiday campaign

In celebration of the Boko Flower, LVMH luxury fashion house Kenzo, released its holiday campaign, "The Golden Boko: KENZO 2022 Festive Season".

Please click here to read the morning newsletter

© 2022 Napean LLC. All rights reserved.

Luxury Daily is published each business day. Thank you for reading us. Your feedback is welcome.