

NEWS BRIEFS

Gucci, Saks, Christie's and Emirates

January 31, 2023

The newly renovated menswear space at the Saks Fifth Avenue New York flagship store features 19 shop-in-shops from key menswear designers. Image courtesy of Luis Guilln for Saks

By LUXURY DAILY NEWS SERVICE

Luxury Daily's live news for Jan. 30:

Gucci names Sabato De Sarno as new creative director

Italian fashion label Gucci, by way of parent company Kering, has appointed Sabato De Sarno to the creative director post, filling the position vacated by Alessandro Michele last November.

Subscribe to Luxury Daily
Plus: Just released
State of Luxury 2019 Save $246 ▶

Saks launches first-ever men's ambassador program, flagship revamp

American department store Saks is celebrating a renewed commitment to menswear, announcing a few new developments to the division.

Christie's to auction collection belonging to Andr Leon Talley

Auction house Christie's latest collection features apparel, artwork and jewelry that reflect Mr. Talley's status as a lifelong influencer of culture.

Emirates completes first 100pc sustainably-fueled flight

Dubai, U.A.E.-based airline Emirates has successfully completed its first demonstration flight wherein one engine was powered by 100 percent Sustainable Aviation Fuel (SAF).

Please click here to read the morning newsletter
