

NEWS BRIEFS

Day's wrap: Cond Nast Traveler, Kering, Rolls-Royce and Norwegian Cruise Line

March 21, 2023

The Black Arrow's design was inspired by Rolls-Royce's record-breaking Thunderbolt model, which made its debut in 1933. Image credit: Rolls-Royce

By LUXURY DAILY NEWS SERVICE

Luxury Daily's live news for March 21:

Cond Nast Traveler launches Global Advisory Board, marking major editorial investment

Cond Nast Traveler is introducing its first-ever Global Advisory Board to readers around the world. Luxury Daily exclusively presents the launch.

Subscribe to Luxury Daily
Plus: Just released
State of Luxury 2019 Save $246 ▶

Kering sets new sustainability goal for 2035

French luxury conglomerate Kering has moved its ESG goalpost further out.

Rolls-Royce bids farewell to Wraith model with limited-edition release

British automaker Rolls-Royce is drawing a line through its current era with a final Wraith model as the company pushes toward the electrification of its engines.

Norwegian CEO to retire as cruise line business evolves

Miami-based cruise company Norwegian Cruise Line Holdings Ltd., parent company of Regent Seven Seas Cruises, is announcing changes to its top position.

Please click here to read the morning newsletter