Developed in partnership with Odom Living Co. Ltd., The Vignette Collection Phnom Penh Odom will be tailored exclusively to a luxury clientele base, with elegance and distinction at the core of its blueprint. Scheduled to open in 2027, the hotel will expand IHG's operations in the Southeast Asian nation.

Living large

Inspired by location, history and architecture, IHG's Vignette Collection of one-off hotels is gaining one major addition in just a few years' time.

The 50-room resort is the conglomerate's second in Cambodia, part of an ongoing effort to scale in Eastern markets. The Vignette Collection succeeded with the launch of a Bangkok location last year three more spots are set to debut throughout Thailand this year and next.

Once complete, The Vignette Collection Phnom Penh Odom will include a rooftop bar, swimming pool, two restaurants, a lobby lounge, a fitness center, four meeting rooms and a members-only private club. All amenities are located on the top seven floors of the city's 45-story Odom Tower.

The building is situated along a major road in Phnom Penh's Tonle Bassac district, conveniently linking it to several international embassies and government agencies.

Global hospitality group Nobu Hotels is also setting its sights on Southeast Asia, standing up the Plaza Athne Hotels, a project that seeks to transform historic buildings in Bangkok and New York City by 2026 (see story).
