Members of the Bonvoy program can redeem points to enjoy experiences in the desert city. The packages range from sports offerings to meet-and-greets.

The famous Bellagio Fountain Show is part of the action.

For the first time in the hotel's 25 years of service, one Bonvoy member will be able to choreograph the water production. They can pick out a song and even conduct the aquatic movements, working with producers at the Wet Campus design studio.

They and five friends will then be invited for an exclusive premiere to see their art come to life in shimmering spray.

Fans of golf can soak up a weekend centered around the pastime with three friends. From playing at Shadow Creek, one of the nation's most prestigious courses, to snagging a VIP Bungalow Bay at MGM Grand Hotel & Casino's Topgolf, the festivities will take place during the sport's biggest tournament, The Masters, on April 14, 2024.

The final package revolves around Cirque du Soleil.

At the K, Michael Jackson ONE, Mad Apple and "O" shows, Bonvoy members can go behind the scenes. The weekend package includes special access, artist meet-and-greets, premier show seating, a pre-show VIP experience and dining at MGM Resorts' restaurants.
