Swiss hotel chain Aman Resorts International is now accepting bookings for its maiden ocean vessel.

The company has launched reservations for Amangati, a 600-foot ultra-luxury motor yacht scheduled to debut during summer 2027. Crafted in partnership with Sinot Yacht Architecture & Design and under construction at T.Mariotti S.p.A in Genoa, the ship will accommodate up to 94 guests across 47 suites ranging from 532 to 1,972 square feet.

Amangati launches Aman at Sea

Aman at Sea sees the luxury hospitality business expand beyond land-based properties.

Each suite aboard the Amangati features a private terrace with select accommodations, including plunge pools that open directly to the sea. Interiors draw inspiration from Japanese ryokan homes with timber-toned finishes, full-height windows and textured materials including ash wood flooring and travertine bathrooms.

Onboard amenities include Nama, Aman's signature Japanese restaurant and Mediterranean dining, as well as an Aman Grill and Jazz Club. A spa with a Japanese garden and an expansive marina providing water access completes the guest experience.

Private charters and events for groups seeking exclusive ocean exploration experiences are also available. Aman plans to reveal curated Mediterranean itineraries later this year.

The hospitality brand simultaneously announced Angela Composto as senior vice president of sales, marketing and reservations. The executive holds more than two decades of cruise and luxury travel experience, now manning the newly formed Aman at Sea division (see story).

“Over the past 25 years working in luxury hospitality, I have strived to gain a strong strategic vision and the ability to anticipate industry trends, which has led to the launch of several successful global brands,” said Ms. Composto, in a statement.

“Now, I am honored to apply this experience at Aman at Sea and look forward to introducing the Aman brand’s deeply rooted values and exceptional reputation to the world’s oceans for the very first time.”
