

The News and Intelligence You Need on Luxury

NEWS BRIEFS

LVMH, Missoni, Christian Lacroix and Turkey – News briefs

June 28, 2013

By STAFF REPORTS

Today in luxury marketing:

LVMH acquires majority stake in Cova

LVMH, the world's largest luxury goods group, has bought a majority stake in Milanese coffee house Cova, once the haunt of composers Giacomo Puccini and Giuseppe Verdi, located at the center of the city's costly "golden grid" of luxury shopping streets, per the Financial Times.

Click here to read the entire story on the Financial Times

Vittorio Missoni's plane found

Missoni said June 27 that the oceanographic ship Deep Sea has found the small aircraft YV2615BN-2A that carried Vittorio Missoni, his life partner Maurizia Castiglioni, friends Guido Foresti and Elda Scalvenzi and two crew members and disappeared on Jan. 4, WWD reported.

Click here to read the entire story on WWD

Lacroix revives his couture line just once, will dedicate it to Elsa Schiaparelli

Christian Lacroix, who has spent the past few years working on a multitude of stage costumes for ballets and exhibits, will put on his couture hat once again to design a special one-off collection inspired by one of his heroes, Elsa Schiaparelli, according to Refinery 29.

Click here to read the entire story on Refinery 29

Turkish unrest hurting luxury-goods demand, Zegna CEO says

Social unrest in Turkey and Brazil is making it harder for luxury-goods makers to keep shoppers spending in a difficult economy, according to Ermenegildo Zegna, per Bloomberg.

Click here to read the entire story on Bloomberg

© Napean LLC. All rights reserved.

Luxury Daily is published each business day. Thank you for reading us. Your feedback is welcome.