

NEWS BRIEFS

Buyers react to Paris Fashion Week, Fabergé, Karl Lagerfeld and Armory Show – News briefs

March 10, 2014

By STAFF REPORTS

Today in luxury marketing:

Outerwear, embellishments shine for buyers in Paris

The international marathon of fashion weeks ended on a high note in Paris, with retailers lauding shows that were as business-minded as they were creative, reports Women's Wear Daily.

Click here to read the whole story on Women's Wear Daily

Shelling out for Fabergé

Last November, during Russia Art Week in London, an imposing van with blacked-out windows was parked in close proximity to the capital's bustling auction houses. The vehicle, emblazoned with the word "Fabergé," belongs to Russian collector Alexander Ivanov, who was busy buying up items made by Peter Carl Fabergé, a name synonymous with opulence, wealth and healthy art market returns, according to the Financial Times.

Click here to read the entire article on the Financial Times

Karl Lagerfeld to design Macau hotel

Karl Lagerfeld and a Macau casino operator announced plans Friday for the Chanel designer to create his first hotel, per the Associated Press.

Click here to read the entire article on the Associated Press

Billionaires join celebrities at Armory Show on Art Surge

Galerie Thaddaeus Ropac sold $2.4 million of blue-chip art halfway through the exclusive opening of the Armory Show this week in New York, as the city's biggest event of its kind got off to a busy start, Bloomberg reports.

Click here to read the entire story on Bloomberg

---

© Napean LLC. All rights reserved.

Luxury Daily is published each business day. Thank you for reading us. Your feedback is welcome.